

Australian CamperTrailers

The non profit www.campertrailers.org is the homepage of the Australian CamperTrailers Yahoo Group, the Australian CamperTrailers Forum & the Australian CamperTrailers Facebook Group with the three medias having over sixteen thousand members.

It provides a place for members to chat which is free of commercial advertising, pressures or promotion of any kind. Manufacturers of camper trailers & camping accessory suppliers are welcome to join the group & share their knowledge & experience. We welcome their participation & the expertise they bring as long as it is unbiased & free of commercial advertising. Membership is free.

If you would like to chat camper trailers, travel or just camping in general, you will find you are right at home with a bunch of like-minded people. Members come from all walks of life, but have a common interest in the great outdoors. Hope we can exchange experiences & learn a little from each other.

While the Yahoo based forum was started in 2001 as an Australian off road camper trailers group, we also enjoy the input of members owning a wide range of camping accommodation from tents & swags, right through to converted buses & motorhomes. Members from other countries are also welcome which gives us an insight into how others camp outside our own environment.

There are many members who have joined the group seeking advice when it comes to buying a camper trailer. We do not push one brand over another, but with the combined help from members who own camper trailers, we hope to steer them in the right direction & help them make an educated decision.

At times weekend get togethers are arranged by the Australian CamperTrailers co-owners which gives members a chance to meet each other. It also gives those looking at buying a camper trailer an opportunity to check campers over first hand & get an unbiased opinion from their owners. You may meet as complete strangers but part as old friends, such is the camaraderie.

Due to legal issues no events can be organised without full prior consultation with the Australian CamperTrailers co-owners and their consent.

As well as the regular weekend camping get togethers there is a yearly national meet where members gathered to enjoy each others company, chat camper trailers, cook on the open fire, exchange recipes, check modifications to campers & explore the area. There are organised workshops on a variety of subjects focused on camping & travel by members & invited guests. Our 12th national meet will be held at Ganmain from Monday 26th to Friday 30th September 2016. You are more than welcome to stay the week or use the meet as a stepping stone during your journey.

Please keep in mind that the Australian CamperTrailers co-owners will not accept any responsibility for members or non-members actions during weekend get together. If you decide to attend, it is solely at your own responsibility, including any side trips or outings during the weekend meet.
